ElginRacing Set to Defend 13 Hour Endurance Overall Win at VIR

Bethesda, MD (October 19, 2015) – ElginRacing is set to compete – and defend last year’s overall win – in the 2015 SCCA 13 Hour Endurance Race at VIRginia International Raceway (VIR) this weekend. Drivers David Jacobs, Greg Obadia and Todd Lamb will be piloting the ElginRacing 2012 Ford Mustang BOSS 302R.

Ben Jacobs has once again selected MEATHEAD Racing to handle the pit stops with Crew Chief Mike Collins calling the shots. Jimmy Padgett and Francois Bru will play a critical role in creating a strategy that will outlast one of the strongest enduro fields seen in recent years.

New this year, we have partnered with Racer Connect to offer a live-stream video feed from inside the #00 Boss 302R using the RaceCast.me service. Fans will be able to watch the entire 13 Hour Enduro race free-of-charge via <http://RaceCast.me>. Racer Connect will provide multiple camera feeds from around the track and in-car views from ElginRacing and competitors' cars. A user simply needs to visit <http://racecast.me/45-masonry/190-2015-vir-13hr> and choose from the multiple streams to watch. Fans will have the opportunity to switch views at their leisure and interact with the team via the live chat feature.

The NC Region SCCA’s 13 Hour Enduro is considered one of the top events in endurance racing. Qualifying will take place on the evening of Friday, October 23rd. Top teams from around the country will begin racing at 9 a.m. and finish thirteen hours later on October 24th. The live-streaming service will begin broadcasting from start of the race on Saturday. ElginRacing will also post live updates from the racetrack on our Facebook, Twitter and Instagram accounts.
